DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-6, 9-12, 14-21 and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kondo (U. S. Patent 6,329,061 B2).

Kondo discloses a dispersion comprising tin doped indium oxide, plasticizer such as triethyleneglycol-di-2-ethylbutyrate, alcohol such as ethanol and polyvinyl butyral resin. An interlayer formed using the dispersion and the glass laminate formed with the laminate (Col. 7, line 5 to col. 8, line 10). The claimed properties specifically not disclosed are deemed to be inherent properties since plasticizer, solvent and particle size of tin doped indium oxide are same as disclosed in the instant disclosure.

4. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kondo (U. S. Patent 6,329,061 B2) in view of Kobata et al (U. S. Patent 6,673,456 B1).

Kondo which has been discussed above in paragraph 3, suggest other additives to the dispersion. However Kondo fails to identify other additives such as adhesion control agent, chelate, acid etc.

Kobata et al disclose interlayer and the glass laminate. The interlayer comprises polyvinyl butyral, plasticizer, chelate, organic acid etc. Kobata et al disclose dispersing tin doped indium oxide particles in the plasticizer or solvent, chelate, dispersion stabilizer, adhesion control agent, organic acid etc. (Col. 2, line 60 to col. 19, line 20 and Examples).

Therefore it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of this invention made to utilize disclosure of Kobata et al in the invention of Kondo to utilize additives disclosed by Kobata et al to make the dispersion, interlayer and the glass laminate with desired properties.

NO claims are allowed.

5. Receipt of Information Disclosure Statements filed September 21, 2005 and June 28, 2007 is acknowledged. All recited documents have been made of record. All recited non-English documents have been considered to the extent of either provided their English abstract or category shown in the English international search report.
